

Welcome Message

On behalf of the LETR International Executive Council, I welcome you to the 2017 Law Enforcement Torch Run® for Special Olympics International Conference to be held in Nashville, Tennessee USA at the Gaylord Opryland Resort & Convention Center from 21 to 23 September, 2017.

The Conference is a time to celebrate our successes and those of our athletes, who continue to benefit from the sporting opportunities that your hard work and compassion have provided.

In March this year, 130 law enforcement officers and athletes participated in the LETR Final Leg for the Special Olympics World Winter Games in Austria. I hope and expect that many of them will be at the Conference, providing them with an opportunity to share their experiences with all of you.

The LETR International Conference provides you an opportunity to see a broader picture of your individual accomplishments and efforts in support of this amazing global movement. New friendships, increased knowledge, greater awareness, and enhanced resource opportunities await you at the LETR International Conference.

Thank you for your continued dedication and continued commitment to make a difference in the world through the Law Enforcement Torch Run® for Special Olympics. I'll see you at the conference.

Scott Whyte APM
